

Attention Inventors

Have you developed technology at LLNL?

Would you like to see it in a commercial product?

If you have filed a record of invention (ROI) and have specific ideas for commercial products that can be developed or benefit from your invention, please contact the Industrial Partnerships Office (IPO). If you know of companies that develop these types of products, that information would be helpful to us.

Haven't yet filed a ROI? To begin the process for protecting your invention go to: <https://ipo-int.llnl.gov/> (Filing a Record of Invention, one-page flier.)

IPO at LLNL handles licensing and industry sponsored research. LLNL is the leader among DOE/ NNSA laboratories in successfully licensing technology that has been commercialized.

Royalties earned from commercialized technologies are shared with inventors in accordance with the royalty policy.

If you have any questions, email us at ipo@llnl.gov or go to <https://ipo.llnl.gov/> for more information.
